

Rattlesnake placed in prison vehicle

Federal Correctional Institution officials at Lompoc yesterday were investigating the bizarre story of two inmates who allegedly placed a live rattlesnake in a prison vehicle with the apparent purpose of injuring or scaring a guard.

Warden Frank Kenton confirmed that the incident did take place in the prison area. He stated that two inmates have been identified as suspects and the investigation is continuing as to whether criminal charges should be filed.

According to some sources, the inmates were observed near the prison vehicle. The guard was not injured and the snake was reportedly killed. Names of the inmates or the guard were not released.

Slaughterhouse proposal may be heard in Lompoc

The possibility that the controversial proposal for a slaughterhouse, and holding pens in the Lompoc area may be heard at a hearing in Lompoc rather than Santa Barbara was revealed today.

County Planning Director Britt Johnson said his office has received communications from Lompoc residents urging the County Planning Commission to hold the hearing on the request in Lompoc.

If it is continued from this Wednesday, the hearing may be held there," Johnson declared.

The public hearing on the request for the facility is now scheduled for 10 a.m. Wednesday in the

Humphrey, McGovern vie for Ohio's delegates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and George S. McGovern of South Dakota, top runners for the Democratic presidential nomination, have a relative-ly clear field in the race for delegates Tuesday's Ohio primary.

The two candidates, who made impressive showings in last week's Pennsylvania and Massachusetts primaries, are competing in a primary for the first time this year without ballot option from Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's name is on the ballot, but he withdrew this week from his primary activity. Others on the ballot are former Sen. Eugene McCarthy and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, whom an aide describes as "the new candidate, and one of these County Engineering Building in Santa Barbara.

But several Lompoc city agencies have expressed concern over the proposed location near the eastern gateway to the city on the west side of State Rt. 246, north of Sweeney Rd.

Planning officials said the site would be "close to the State Highway 1 bypass." They declared present plans for the facility give no capacity for the slaughterhouse or holding pens. The pens are shown to be 200 by 300 feet.

A frozen food locker plant is also requested.

days, one of these states is going to buy him."

But probably not in Ohio, where Humphrey and McGovern each hope to harvest a majority of the 153 national convention delegates, fifth largest group of delegates in the nation. Both elbowed their way toward the political center, blitting Ohio's industrial northern tier for chunks of Democratic votes and seeking Muskie delegates left stranded by the Maine senator's decision to withdraw.

'Hold' placed on nomination

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Democratic leadership put a "hold" Friday on Richard G. Kleindienst's nomination to be attorney general and one of his harshest critics promised a full airing of charges of improper political influence in the Justice Department.

The delay in Senate consideration of the disputed nomination was requested by one of the four Democratic members of the Senate Judiciary Committee who voted Thursday against Kleindienst's approval.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., said the "hold" would be honored at least until Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield returns week after next from a visit to China with GOP Leader Hugh Scott, and decides when the nomination will be taken up on the Senate floor.

By Senate tradition, Byrd did not identify who made the "hold" request. But Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., one of the four dissenters, called a news conference to announce he intended to arrange a "full airing" of the committee's two-month investigation.

It's imperative to move rapidly or be swallowed up in a sea of mediocrity or worse.

Here are some of his views as he gave them, as they occurred to him and as they boomed forth in the excitement of the moment.

Autry warns it's a mistake to equate "growth" with urban sprawl. Sprawl of any type is bad in his view.

He thinks planning has a long way to go in the city before it can act as a stimulant to better development. "It's probably the result of very little planning having been done for some time, in comparison to what's been done elsewhere."

New methods of development must be considered, but before that Autry would have the city take a look at the zoning ordinance and at land use.

New welfare plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Finance Committee killed President Nixon's welfare bill Friday and adopted one which would create jobs and require employable welfare recipients to go to work or lose all federal benefits for themselves or their families.

As many as 29 million adults and children — roughly one seventh of the U.S. population — would draw from the U.S. Treasury under the committee's multibillion dollar program. They would get welfare payments, "work bonus" cash payments or wage subsidies.

Two Cabinet members, in the strongest terms, denounced the committee program as "a $9 billion step backward — backward into the leaf-raking schemes of the 1930s."

On behalf of the administration, Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson and Secretary Elliot L. Richardson of Health Education and Welfare vowed a fight on the Senate floor to revive Nixon's bettered "family assistance plan," first proposed in 1969.

But the White House was embarrassed when no Republican on the conservative-dominated committee stepped forward to defend Nixon's bill. Critics contended Nixon's plan would give people on welfare every incentive to avoid taking a job.

Nonetheless, Richardson said a 51-vote majority exists in the Senate to salvage Nixon's most important domestic program. But he could not name a Republican senator who would lead the battle on behalf of the President.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., committee chairman and author of the committee bill, conceded that up to 1.2 million welfare recipients — mostly mothers — could be forced into such "make-work" jobs as cleaning streets or beautifying parks. He said "make work" is better than paying people who refuse to work.

Under Long's plan, a mother who found a job in the private economy would be paid $1.20 an hour plus a federal subsidy of 42 cents. If she were unable to find a private job, she would be given a state or local government job at only $1.20 an hour. This would be an incentive to find a better-paying job, he said.

If the mother refused to take a job, Long said, federal welfare benefits would be denied both her and her children but states could choose to continue aid from their own funds. Under Nixon's bill, the family would be penalized only by the loss of the mother's job and the payments would continue for the support of the children.

Richardson said the bill would "deprive needy children of assistance."

North Vietnamese shatter northernmost defense line

KATHY LAMBERT smiles but she is really wondering how one "springs forward" the hour glass at 2 a.m. tomorrow as the nation, with the exception of three States, turns their clocks ahead one hour to conform with Daylight Savings Time.

SAIGON (UPI) — Tank-led North Vietnamese troops in a broad attacking front shattered South Vietnam's northernmost defense line Friday and drove a wedge between the northernmost provincial capital of Quang Tri and its nearby combat base Saturday morning, threatening the city itself.

UPI correspondent Donald A. Davis, reporting from the northern military headquarters at Da Nang, said a Communist tank column cut off the base surrounding a South Vietnamese marine detachment during an attack on the Quang Tri bridge, just south of the city along Highway 1.

Earlier, a separate armor force advanced to within 10 miles of the ancient imperial capital of Hue after overrunning Dong Ha bastion, eight miles north of Quang Tri, and surrounding the provincial capital.

Davis quoted military sources as saying the Communist force attacking near Quang Tri pulled back from the bridge and at dawn began fresh shelling attacks in the area. North Vietnamese tanks and artillery hit the city, apparently to keep defenders inside pinned down, they said.

Four divisions of Communists — 40,000 men at full strength — laid siege to the northern provincial capital of Quang Tri, 18 miles south of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and sent South Vietnamese fleeing from two key bases guarding Hue, the country's third largest city.

The two outposts abandoned early Saturday were artillery base Bastogne, nine miles southwest of Hue, and the nearby Checkmate defensive base. Only one base, Birmingham, lay between the advancing columns of North Vietnamese and the ancient imperial capital which was held by Communist forces for 24 days during the 1968 Tet offensive. Hue is 35 miles south of Quang Tri.

UPI Correspondent Stewart Kellerman said that as of dawn Saturday there had been no Communist move made at Hue itself.

American warplanes pounded Bastogne and Checkmate early Saturday in an attempt to destroy abandoned government weapons, gas and ammunition.

Administrator slated to present budget

City Administrator Gene Wahlers will present the 1972-73 city fiscal budget to the City Council Tuesday at their regular meeting.

No indication of the size of the budget increase or decrease is noted in the official agenda of the meeting.

Following presentation, it is expected that the City Council will set a series of budget sessions prior to adoption.

The Council is also expected to take final action on changing the City Code relative to firezones, making the downtown district a lower classification. Don Johnson, fire chief, is expected to make a report. The measure passed a first reading on a 4-1 vote with Councilman Sol Lefkowitz in opposition.

A resolution establishing rules, regulations and fee schedules relative to the parks and recreation facilities of the city will also be introduced, following a report by City Attorney James Longtin.

In other business, the Council is expected to act on a covenant and agreement from the Lompoc Record providing parking or payment in lieu thereof for a contemplated new Record headquarters at 115 North H Street; on a request from the city beautification commission that the water bill for Flower Power improvements at H and Ocean be assumed by the city; and a request for authorization to fill existing personnel vacancies.

Seven jets down, N. Viet claim

PARIS (UPI) — North Vietnamese anti-aircraft batteries shot down seven U.S. planes during bombing raids over the North Wednesday, the Hanoi news agency said Friday.

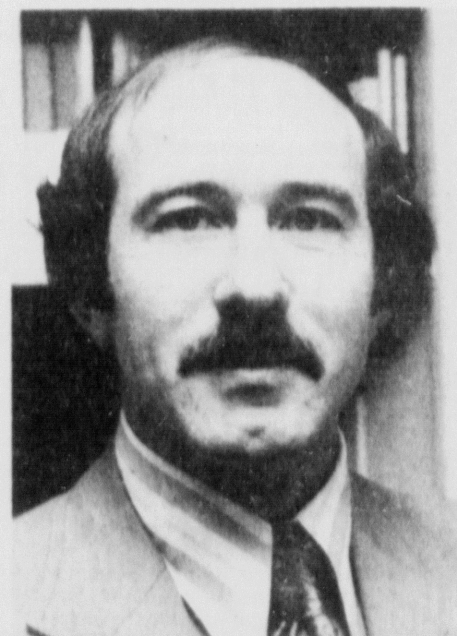

In a dispatch released in Paris, the news agency said the planes were shot down over Thanh Hoa and Quang Binh provinces.

The dispatch said several pilots were "eliminated" but did not say if others were taken captive.

An interview with city planner Al Autry

Al Autry

"There are 23 zoning categories in the city, 11 of which are not used. We could revise the ordinance to provide six classifications of zoning with proper supervisory regulatory tools that would give us flexibility and yet retain the control the community wants."

Autry deplores the rigidity that he sees developing everywhere. "We tend to compound the problem rather than simplify it."

Here are more of his views:

—We must take a look at the great amount of land we have taken off the tax rolls, and at the great amount of land that is undeveloped.

—In future development we must reassess the width of streets; today many of the cars on the road are compacts for example.

—Some of the standards under which the staff has been laboring must be modified to reflect new methods of development.

—The old grid system of development which exists in Lompoc does not provide types of subdivision patterns that make for the amenities. We're going to have to change our technique especially if we hope to attract new development or to redevelop some of the areas that have become a burden to the taxpayer.

—All this will require some significant action by the Planning Commission and the City Council.

—We'll have to consider pre-zoning, rezoning and even downzoning in some cases if we're going to affect future growth in a positive way.

—Growth is going to occur whether we like it or not. Hopefully it will be slow enough to be controlled by the community.

—From my brief analysis of the community development department, our function and our responsibility — there is a great backlog of work that's waiting to be done both in terms of requirements of the state and federal government and in terms of what the Planning Commission and City Council require in special studies. It will be necessary to provide the staff with technical assistance to adequately inventory, study and provide solutions to assist the community to develop courses of action it wants to take for future growth.

A DRAMATIC READING BY Patricia Briggs, left, and Janet Jackson will be featured in the talent show portion of UCSB's Black Minifestival May 5 through 7. The show will be in Campbell hall at 1 p.m. May 7, and participants will be from communities throughout the Tri-Counties. Proceeds from the Festival will go to the Black Student Emergency Loan Fund.

Talent show planned for Minifestival

A talent show incorporating student and community participation will play a vital role in the upcoming Black Minifestival, a unique cultural event being sponsored May 5-7 by the UCSB Committee for Black Culture.

"We're offering the talent show as part of a comprehensive program to improve communication between the university and the community," said committee member Dan Myers. "We also hope to promote a stronger sense of unity and morale within the local Black communities."

Invitations to participate in the Sunday (May 7) event have been extended to tri-county schools and communities, Vandenberg AFB and Lompoc prison. The show will begin at 1 p.m. in Campbell Hall. Entrants are still being accepted at 685-1759 or 968-0565.

Community work is also being solicited for the art show, to be judged May 4 and displayed at selected locations in the University Center during the festival. Olivia McMichael, director of the show will continue to accept works until Thursday. Contributors can contact her at 968-5180.

An indication of the range and diversity of Black culture will be presented in a UCSB student production Friday (May 5) at 8 p.m. in South Hall, Rm. 1004. Students will explore black creativity in dance, drama and classical music, highlighting their program with an East African drama and Swahili wedding ceremony.

Dancers Lizzatta LaFalle, Pamela Melvin and Sheila Johnson will portray the plight of the Black woman in the ghetto in a dance choreographed by Miss LaFalle. A dramatic presentation compiled by director Ray Jackson, Patricia Briggs, Eddie Cooper, Janet Jackson, Ernie Stewart and Randy Stewart will treat traditional themes of oppression, denial and anger.

"Black Chariot," rare in its all-Black conception, production, direction, acting and financing, will be shown May 6 at 2 p.m. in Campbell Hall. Director Robert Goodwin will be on campus to discuss the film.

The New Generation Singers, a San Francisco Bay Area ensemble heralded as a magnificent gospel singing group, will present a concert Saturday at 8 p.m. in Campbell Hall.

Taste of Soul, a well-known, local rhythm and blues band will be featured in a concluding dance celebration May 7 at Waldo's on the Mall in the University Center at 9 p.m.

Tickets for the New Generation Singers are available at the UCSB Arts and Lectures Ticket Office and the Lobero Theatre. Tickets for all other events are currently on sale at the University Center Information Booth and will be sold at the door. All proceeds will go to the Black Student Emergency Loan Fund.

Forestry board to meet in SB

The California State Board of Forestry will hold a public meeting in Santa Barbara May 12, it was announced today by local board member Lamar Johnston.

Johnston, a rancher from New Cuyama, is one of eight members of the board and represents the range livestock industry.

May 11 the board will tour the Santa Barbara County front country and the Santa Ynez Watershed escorted by Johnston, Santa Barbara County Fire Chief John Risdon, University of California Extension Service Farm Advisor Lynn Maxwell and members of the U.S. Forest Service and the California Division of Forestry.

The tour will include a visit to the Romero fire area of last October that burned 16,000 acres of prime watershed land and claimed the lives of four firefighters. Board members will be able to see the amount of fire damage, the results of last season's reseeded project and the erosion and downstream flood damage caused by the fire denuded slopes.

The board will also consider the potential for fuel modification with fuelbreaks and pre-suppression planning to modify the fire hazard.

The meeting May 12 will start at 9 a.m. in the Santa Barbara County Board of Supervisors hearing room and will include a panel discussion reviewing the many aspects of watershed management and protection.

Navy's first woman admiral

HOLGATE, Ohio (UPI)—Navy nurse Alene Bertha Duerk was driving along the Ohio Turnpike listening to a radio newscast Thursday.

"The announcer said: 'The first woman admiral... and I thought, 'This is it,' she said. Then she learned that President Nixon had nominated her to be the first Navy woman of flag rank."

"I just kept right on driving," Miss Duerk, 52, and a 29-year veteran of the Navy, said Thursday. "If someone would have been there, I probably would have gotten excited, but you just can't get excited by yourself."

The brown-haired captain, one of 47 women of that rank who were under consideration for promotion to rear admiral, was named head of the Navy Nurse Corps in 1970. Confirmation by the Senate will make her the highest ranking woman in the armed forces.

As a rear admiral, Miss Duerk would automatically outrank six women previously promoted to general in the Army and Air Force, starting in June, 1970. Her two stars will put her ahead of two women brigadier generals in the Air Force and four in the Army, two of whom are retired now.

She was born in nearby Defiance and the family moved here after her father's death in 1924. She decided in her childhood on a nursing career. In 1943 she entered the Navy as a graduate of the Toledo school of nursing.

Additional home loans

Additional home loans were made available today by the announcement from the offices of Eugene A. Gullledge, assistant secretary-commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration, Washington, D.C., and Congressman Charles M. Teague, according to Robert M. Seavers, secretary-manager of the Santa Maria Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Commissioner Gullledge advised that the Federal Housing Administration has received a Certificate of Need from the Department of Defense for 100 housing units to be financed under Section 809 of the National Housing Act.

Gullledge concluded his announcement by stating that the director of the Los Angeles area office has been informed and authorized "to accept individual applications involving eligible military-connected families."

"This will make it possible for a person connected with Vandenberg Air Force Base, after proper certification, to qualify for an FHA loan on an existing house that has been constructed for more than one year," according to Seavers.

The Chamber of Commerce is continuing its efforts to secure additional FHA loan commitments for this area.

Mussel quarantine to start

The annual quarantine order on mussels in California, from May 1 to Oct. 31, was issued today by the State Director of Public Health, William J. Kurtz.

According to Joseph T. Nardo, M.D., Santa Barbara County Health Officer, signs again will be posted along the coast warning the public not to gather mussels, except for fish bait.

The signs also state that clams should be cleaned and washed thoroughly before cooking, and all dark parts of the meat should be discarded.

"The source of the paralytic poison that contaminates mussels and to some extent clams is a microscopic organism of the ocean, a form of plankton," Dr. Nardo said. "When these organisms are abundant, the sea turns a deep rust color, the so-called 'Red Tide' that American Indians long ago associated with shellfish poisoning."

Abalone and crabs do not feed on plankton and there is no danger of poisoning from them, Dr. Nardo said. The number of poisonous plankton in coastal waters during the summer months can increase suddenly, resulting in shellfish becoming toxic within a few days. Therefore, mussels are put under an annual quarantine from May to November and at such times as laboratory tests show them to be dangerous, Dr. Nardo said.

Although no cases of paralytic shellfish poisoning were reported in Santa Barbara County, 9 of 40 specimens of mussel samples taken along the coast by the County Health Department were positive for toxin when tested by the State Health Department, Division of Laboratories.

Elsewhere in the state, 15 cases of paralytic shellfish poisoning from three separate outbreaks were reported in 1971 (Humboldt, San Francisco and San Mateo Counties).

Elevated toxin levels were detected in 15.4 per cent (31-200) of mussel and clam specimens submitted. In 1970 and 1969, the rates were 12.3 per cent and 8.4 per cent respectively.

Toxic specimens were recorded from nine of the 12 participating coastal counties, ranging from Humboldt-Del Norte in the north, to Orange in the south.

All suspect cases of paralytic shellfish poisoning should be reported immediately by telephone to the Health Department.

Queen candidates to be honored in LA

Flower Festival Queen candidates will leave next week to be honored during Dodger-Phillies baseball game at Dodger Stadium.

At the invitation of the Dodger organization, the candidates will be interviewed and will meet Dodger players. The girls will remain at the stadium to see the game and will be honored during the action with a "Dodger Scoreboard" welcome.

Terry Dorsey, Flower Festival chairman, stated the eight candidates will be guests of Universal City Studios during the day, prior to the game, and the group plans to tour those facilities.

Los Angeles radio station KFI will interview the queen candidates during an afternoon program emanating from Universal City Studios.

Miami makes no move for GOP invitation

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—City officials made no move Friday to formally invite the Republican National Convention here from San Diego despite a deadline request to do so by a Republican official.

Instead, City Manager Clifford O'Key said he needed assurances of extra money and manpower from the Nixon administration before he will recommend the city council issue the invitation.

Richard Herman, vice chairman of the GOP convention arrangements committee, requested Thursday that the council decide by Friday. It takes a council vote to issue the invitation and no council meeting was scheduled, O'Key said it would take at least 24 hours to convene the council in emergency session.

Fearing a six-weeks-long onslaught by thousands of non-delegates who would remain in Miami Beach for the Democratic National Convention July 9-13 and the proposed GOP convention Aug. 21-24, O'Key stressed the need for additional security forces.

Nixon in Bahama hideaway

GRAND CAY, Bahama Islands (UPI)—President Nixon flew to a favorite vacation hideaway in the Bahamas Friday while speculation continued over the political impact of his visit this Sunday to the Texas ranch of Treasury Secretary John B. Connally.

The President, spending three days in Florida before the politically-charged Texas trip, flew by helicopter Friday afternoon to Grand Cay, 100 miles off the Florida east coast. He planned to spend at least one night there at the home of Robert Abplanalp, Bronxville, N. Y., industrialist and long-time Nixon friend.

Earlier Friday, Nixon followed his usual Florida routine, rising early and talking by telephone with his top White House aides. He also signed several pieces of legislation and assessed the reaction to his latest troop withdrawal announcement Wednesday.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said most comments were favorable except for "criticism that has come from certain quarters ... that would come no matter what the President said." He did not elaborate.

The leisurely vacation pace will be broken Sunday afternoon when Nixon flies to San Antonio and then on to Connally's ranch at Floresville.

On the surface, Nixon has simply accepted a dinner invitation from the three-time Texas governor. But the visit is seen by many as tightening the bonds between the President and the only Democrat in his official family.

The city manager said assurances of such aid must come from a high ranking administration official who has the authority to make certain extra security precautions are provided.

The convention originally was scheduled for San Diego, Calif., but financial difficulties and delays in construction of special convention facilities apparently have ruled San Diego out, although no official announcement to that effect has been made.

Anti-war protesters act at table tennis match

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—Some 250 antiwar protesters demonstrated Friday at an exhibition match by China's championship table tennis team at the Maples Pavilion at Stanford University.

The demonstrators sat in one section of the modern gymnasium, held up placards, refused to stand during the playing of the National Anthem and jeered Stanford President Richard Lyman during his welcoming address.

An estimated 7,500 spectators crowded into the 8,000-capacity pavilion for the afternoon matches. They cheered wildly at the brilliant rallies staged by the 34-member team in both individual and doubles matches.

At one point a student selling programs was coaxed into matching skills with China's world double champion Liang Ke-liang.

The student, Bob Shur, 20, a junior and a former member of the U.S. Table Tennis Association team, was beaten by his 21-year-old opponent 21-7.

"It was pretty exciting," Shur said afterwards, "I was a little disappointed that he didn't try to wipe me off the table." He said Liang played a defensive game.

The match which caused the most excitement from the crowd featured world singles champion Chuang Tse-tung and Chang Hsieh-lin, Chuang edged Chang 21-19. The winner's trick shots drew the loudest cheers of the day.

Welfare bill soars

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's total federal, state and local welfare bill soared to a record $17.73 billion in 1971, the Health, Education and Welfare Department (HEW) said Friday.

That figure included all the money spent by federal, state and local governments for Medicaid, aid to needy families, the aged, blind and disabled, and local relief. It was $3.29 billion higher than the 1970 spending total.

The federal share of the 1971 welfare bill was $9.13 billion.

The HEW annual figures showed that 22 states reported that the number of persons receiving welfare increased between 10 and 20 per cent in 1971, and in 14 states, the number rose by 20 per cent or more.

Annual welfare reports from HEW normally are issued on a fiscal rather than a calendar-year basis, and the department six months ago reported the biggest annual welfare cost increase in history.

Hope seen for funding of Miguelito flood plan

Hopes for the completion of the Miguelito Channel project to the tune of $2.5 million were raised yesterday by Councilman

Sol Lefkowitz who reported that following a series of discussions, the funding may be approved by the House Appropriations Committee.

Lefkowitz stated that he had discussed the needed project with Ken Grant, administrator of the Soil Conservation Services, and that Grant reported he felt it was a good project but he doubted whether Congressman Jamie Whitten, head of the committee, would nod his approval.

Plan policy set for delay Monday

Controversial county General Plan policy matters won't come up before the Board of Supervisors Monday after all, it was learned.

The county counsel's office today requested that scheduled discussion of a request by Supervisor George H. Clyde for reconsideration of an action taken March 27 by the board be held over until Monday. The supervisors by a 4-0 vote "re-iterated" that the General Plan was flexible, and not a firm instrument.

County Counsel George Kading had been asked to make a report on certain aspects of new state legislation requiring the county to have its General Plan and existing zoning be "consistent" by next January.

The term "consistent" has seemed to baffle some county supervisors and county planning commissioners in this context, although Webster's definition is clear: that the two be "in accord."

Clyde asked for reconsideration, claiming only the full board should act on such important policy matters. He was absent on county business in Washington, CD. C. when his colleagues acted.

Lefkowitz stated that Congressman Charles M. Teague received a letter from Congressman Whitten claiming that he would approve of the funding if the Soil Conservation Services put it in their project claims.

The SCS has $25 million for projects," Lefkowitz reported. "It is only a matter now of Grant putting our $2.5 million in this total."

Styming the project for the past several years has been the fact that it is a completed project according to the federal government.

Lefkowitz said he explained to Grant that there has been a complete change of conditions in the Valley since the completion of the project and that it is expected the conditions will change even more now that the space shuttle announcement has been made. He said Grant agreed with him.

"I am extremely hopeful that Grant will include our funding in his total project budget before the appropriations committee," Lefkowitz concluded.

Home show seeks queen hopefuls

The Lompoc Valley Home Furnishing Dealers Association is still accepting applications from young ladies aged 18 thru 21 who would be interested in being a candidate for Miss Home Show 1972.

All six finalists will be paid to serve as Hostesses for the Home Show on May 19, 20, and 21 at the Veterans Memorial Building. Last Chance for getting applications in is May 3rd. The girls will be judged by members of the Home Furnishing Dealers Assn. at a dinner on May 10th and the girl chosen to be Miss Home Show will be presented with a check for $50.

Primary vote registration delayed

County Election Division officials said Friday it appears that the office won't have final Primary Election registration results in until next week at the earliest.

Target date of Friday came and went without the tabulations, due to the unexpectedly heavy registration that continued right up to deadline the evening of April 13.

It now appears probable there will be about 130,000 registered voters for the Primary.

The registration in the UC Santa Barbara-Isla Vista area and environs where students live may be double that of the November election in many areas. It is felt Isla Vista itself may have 7,000 registrations, with another 5,000 in the widespread area of student residence that also includes University Village and other heavily build up sectors in the Ellwood section.

A LONG, LONG trail to safety is followed by these refugees fleeing the Quang Tri battle in South Vietnam. It appears that mama shoulders the heaviest but most precious load.

Voter registration hike to cost more tax money

BY DICK PRAUL

A dramatic increase in voter registrations in Santa Barbara County this year will mean more county expense as well as added citizen participation in the election process.

County Clerk J. E. Lewis who is said to be revising earlier voter registration projections of 120,000 upward quite a bit, is asking county supervisors to consider acquiring more Votronic Vote Counters at $125,550 a copy.

The additional counters — which would cost $131,827 with sales tax included — could be delivered in time for the June 6 Primary.

Supervisors could budget the payments over the next two fiscal years with interest payments that would bring the total to $141,714.

The county completed purchase of 23 Votronics Vote Counters from Cubic, a division of Cubic Corp., of San Diego, in September, 1971.

Lewis is pointing out that in the 1970 Primary the county registered 104,623 voters. Now the latest guess is that up to 130,000 will be registered for the coming election, with five different ballots adding to the counting load.

Lewis said if the Supervisors go along with purchase of the additional three counters, he would place three in the Santa Barbara office where there now are 14 stored; and add one additional to Santa Maria to make seven there, and a fourth at Lompoc.

The added machines will be needed in view of the 20 percent or more addition to the registration roll — with resulting more tabulations — it was stated by Cubic official C.B.A. Stetson.

During elections, ballots are counted not only in the Santa Barbara Election Bureau headquarters, but also in Santa Maria and Lompoc. Central computer equipment keeps citizens of all three major cities quickly informed of the up-to-the-minute vote count during the evening of the election day.

Purchase price of the present machines totaled about $590,000, and was spaced out over more than five years. This came after the county had leased 18 machines in the 1966 Primary for $50,300. The leased sum then was applied to the purchase figure later in the year.

Lewis has claimed that use of the electronic machines has saved the county up to $45,000 or more in single elections, cutting down on the number of precincts and precinct officials.

The county clerk said he will await a final count of registered voters before making any request for an extra appropriation that may be needed to finance added polling places due to the higher vote registration. Added polling places in the Isla Vista area are expected to be needed with 18-20 year registration up greatly.

Poll to decide board's position

The County Water Agency has decided to poll member water districts along the South Coast and in Santa Ynez Valley how they feel about having the county provide an "expression of interest" in the proposed Federal-state water desalter project in Diablo Canyon.

Input from the various member agencies which contract for Cachuza Project water and dispense it in Goleta Valley, Carpinteria Valley, Montecito, Santa Ynez Valley and the city of Santa Barbara is regarded as essential before the county authorities can make a determination.

State Department of Water Resources head William Gianelli has asked the county officials to consider adopting a resolution showing interest in the proposed desalter project, which, if authorized, could supply both Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo counties with large quantities of quality, desalted supplemental water.

Meanwhile, county authorities today received a letter from Goleta County Water District president Jose R. Martinez on the subject.

Martinez said directors of the district supports a policy of letting the people decide whether to join in participation in the Diablo Canyon plant. This could be done by referendum or through a bond election vote, he showed. He stressed Goleta Valley district is one of the largest water users in the county and is "deeply concerned about the forthcoming decision."

I.V. battle shaping up

Property owners in Isla Vista — large and small — are lining up on one side or other in the current controversy of whether to approve or try to block the proposed formation of an Isla Vista Recreation and Park District.

County supervisors who will conduct a public hearing Monday afternoon on the proposal may wind up discussing it Monday night instead, a look at the marathon agenda for the weekly session shows.

The Isla Vista park district item comes up No. 89 and last on the seven-page agenda, judged to be one of the heaviest — if not the most burdensome agenda — ever to hit the Supervisors.

Petitions with signatures of various Isla Vista Businessmen and residents of single-family homes in the community have been filed favoring the district. These total 114 names. Other petitions are expected to be circulated both for and against the district plan.

Several principal property owners, including Jack Swartz, have headed up opposition to the district on the grounds the district could levy relatively high taxes and issue bonds that would be a burden to taxpayers there. Other business interests have taken the position the proposed Madrid Park on a 2.3 acre site in Isla Vista's commercial area will enhance property values and knit the troubled community together.

—I have been exploring the possibility that the department of architecture and environmental studies at Cal Poly can provide the city with student interns to study projects in the city and provide the city with a great deal of planning research. When blended with the professional capability of the community development department it can result in meaningful analysis and assessment of the community and its problems.

—Some type of identity is necessary, also a downtown community center should be retained and maintained. It would appear that the center has shifted from H Street and Ocean Avenue, historic center, to a point further north on H

Street, perhaps at Lompoc Shopping Center. That may be the case today, but it doesn't mean it has to be the case in future years. The downtown we refer to H and Ocean, has a

So you want to be . . .

By ERNIE HOOD

Many of our readers have been writing regarding career opportunities in stenographic and secretarial work, and typical of the inquiries is that from:

Linda P., Poughkeepsie, N.Y. "Please provide me with as much information on secretarial-stenographic careers: What's the difference?"

Dear Linda: Let's take up the matter of "difference."

Stenographers take dictation from one or more persons and then transcribe their notes on a typewriter, and most record their notes in shorthand, although some use machines which print symbols as different keys are pressed. In addition to taking and transcribing dictation, many stenographers also do other kinds of typing, answer telephones, operate various types of office machines and perform other clerical duties.

Secretaries, in addition to stenographic work, relieve their employers of numerous routine duties and often handle a variety of business details on their own initiative. Duties vary, depending upon the nature of the employer's business, but secretaries often handle such tasks as scheduling appointments, arranging airline ticket and hotel reservations, and they handle private or confidential records and files.

There are upwards of 2.5 million people employed in jobs requiring stenographic skills; more than 95 per cent women.

great deal of promise, a great deal of opportunity for redevelopment, but unless the community takes some action in that respect to invite or create some incentives, everything points to a further shift to the north.

Here are more of Autry's views:

—An analysis of Current trends indicates a likelihood of Central Avenue and H Street becoming the site of a regional shopping center, especially after Highway 1 Freeway is built with an offramp at Central Avenue.

With this assessment in mind it is important in his view to protect nearby Lompoc Airport, Commercial and industrial development zoning has been indicated for the glide path to the east of the airport — "those types of uses should be limited in that area."

—It is apparent the city is going to have to develop some way of providing offstreet parking in the present downtown:

by parking district, bone issue, general obligation bond or general fund method of acquiring the land. However, I don't think the total community should share in this burden if the business interests are not willing to assist with the development of the parking and even more so by redevelopment of their businesses to provide more aesthetically pleasing accommodations.

In other respects Autry believes the city like other cities has engaged in strip zoning and has not kept "its house in order."

—Despite all this he notes that Lompoc is still way out ahead of many communities. If there are any wrinkles on the municipal garment, he'd like to help iron them out. It's the challenge that gets him all fired up.

Obituary

Stanley Blascow

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at McPeck Family Mortuary Chapel for Stanley Marvin Blascow, 52, who died at Lompoc District Hospital yesterday.

Interment will be in Lompoc Evergreen Cemetery.

Mr. Blascow was born Aug. 11, 1919 in Alamogordo, New Mexico. He has been a resident of the Lompoc area for the last 10 years. He was a member of Lompoc Elks Lodge and is a retired ironworker. He resided at 3200 E. Ocean Ave.

He is survived by his wife Faye, of Lompoc; a daughter, Miss Susan Blascow of Lompoc; two sons, Keith of Lompoc and Stanley, Jr., of Eugene, Oregon; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Lewis of Van Nuys, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Bonnie Smith of Newhall, Calif., and Mrs. Oma Bailey, Boulder City, Nevada.

Daily record

BURGLARS broke a window to gain entrance to St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 209 E. Central Ave., Wednesday night and escaped with $3 in cash, $82 in checks and some keys, according to police. Damage to the windows was estimated at $10. The incident was reported yesterday too late for Friday's edition of the Record.

THREE paintings were given away in a drawing at the Lompoc Valley Art Association Art Show. Recipients of the works were B. Dawson, 304 Princeton Place, Frances Green, 909 W. Cherry and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox, 143 Gemini.

Speech contest at Junior High

An estimated 100 junior high school students including about 40 from Lompoc Valley will converge on Vandenberg Junior High School today for a countywide speech contest.

Competition will begin at 10 a.m., according to Dick Wilson faculty speech instructor. Awards will be presented in the afternoon.

Wilson and his faculty associates Don Lisle and Julia Coffin hope to make the event an annual one.

Southern Baptists delay clock change

Daylight Savings Time change Sunday will be after morning service for the members and visitors at First Southern Baptist Church. This means that Sunday afternoon will be one hour shorter rather than the night hours of Saturday. For three years the church has found that in the spring with the change to daylight savings time, less confusion is created if the services go by the old time, and the clocks changed after morning Sunday School and church. The U.S. Congress has sought to spare industry and labor the confusion of a Monday 2 a.m. change. But churches then bear the brunt of confusion with the Government suggested change at 2 a.m. Sunday. Sunday Bible classes are at 9:30 (old time) for all ages. A large number of skilled teachers and directors are in charge of the Sunday school of 575 enrolled persons. Carl Wood is general director.

Morning church services will be at 11 a.m. (old time.) Pastor Dr. W. B. Timberlake will bring a sermon on the subject, "The Only Name For Salvation." The choir will sing a hymn arrangement of "I Am Thine, O Lord" by J. R. Tipton, under direction of Danny Martinez, Minister of Music.

Sunday evening at 6 (after turning clocks forward) the Church training program will meet in groups to discuss programs of participating in the Christian life. Harold Caddell is director.

Dr. W. B. Timberlake will speak at the 7 church hour on the sermon subject, "The Place Was Shaking." The combined youth and adult choir will present the "Assurance March."

Peace Church plans baptism

This Sunday, Cantate Sunday, the 10:30 a.m. service at Peace Lutheran Church will include the celebration of the Sacrament of Holy Baptism. This expression of new life is an integral part of the joy of Easter which is prevalent in this Sunday's worship. The sermon to be delivered by Rev. David Miller is entitled: "Nothing But the Truth." The week to follow at Peace will include the normal activities: Weekday Church School for seventh and eighth graders on Monday and Wednesday at 3:30 p.m., choir rehearsal and Boy Scouts on Thursday at 7 p.m.

Church slates crusade of evangelism

Announced by First Southern Baptist Church of Santa Maria is an evangelism crusade to be conducted by Harry Williams of Fresno, director of evangelism for the Southern Baptist Convention. Dates are May 7-14. The public is invited to the church, corner of Russell and Fesler Sts.

The Rev. J. T. Harmon is church pastor and Art Hall the Sunday School director.

Bethany pastor attends conference this weekend

The Rev. Martin Porath, pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church and James Nigh, lay delegate, are attending the 54th Convention of the California and Nevada District of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod at Asilomar Conference Grounds, Pacific Grove, this weekend. The youth delegate from Bethany is Miss JoAnn Meeks who will represent Zone 9. The convention is being held on a weekend for the first time in order that more lay people will be able to participate.

A major feature of the convention will be "Community Impact". Delegates will go in teams to various locations in the Monterey Bay area to interact with members of these communities. Special interest groups are also part of the program. Each delegate may attend three out of a possible 15 groups covering various matters of current concern. Another feature will be a film festival during which 11 short films will be shown.

The convention essay, "Come and See! Go and Tell!" will be delivered by Dr. Paul W. F. Harms of Concordia Senior College, Ft. Wayne, Ind. Also participating will be Dr. Oliver Harms, past president of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod and director of the Synod's 125th anniversary committee. Pastors and lay delegates from 199 congregations in California, Nevada and Hawaii, as well as clergymen in special ministries, are in attendance.

This Sunday has been designated as Laymen's Sunday by request of the district board of directors so that pastors can attend the California-Nevada District Convention. Services at Bethany this Sunday will be conducted by Bob Rich and Joe Mathis. At the 8:15 service Rich will use a special laymen's service developed by the Lutheran Laymen's League for use this Sunday. Mathis will lead the 10:45 service using the regular Order of Morning Service. Sunday School Classes will meet at 9:30 a.m.

Biola Chorale comes to Calvary Baptist

The Biola Chorale, a 60-voice choral group from Biola College, La Mirada, will present a varied sacred concert at 7:00 p.m. Monday night, May 1st at Calvary Baptist Church. Directed by Loren Wiebe, the chorale is an outstanding musical group from the well-known

West Coast Christian College. There will be no admission charge, and the public is invited. A free-will offering will help with the chorale's travel expense. Calvary Baptist Church invites friends from the community and from other churches to share in a most enjoyable evening of sacred music.

Biola Chorale represents the interdenominational Christian Liberal Arts College, which has for years prepared young people from many different church backgrounds for service as teachers, ministers, missionaries, and other vocations. Biola's excellent music department has consistently provided musical groups which present the finest in sacred music and display a high level of musicianship.

Sunday services at Calvary tomorrow will include the worship service at 11 a.m. evening service at 6, and Sunday School for all ages at 9:45 a.m. Following the evening service, training hour groups will meet at 7:15. Pastor Wallis Turner will speak at both regular Sunday services.

Attend church

"Church for Real" is pastor's subject

"A Church That Is For Real" is the sermon topic announced for tomorrow morning at the 9:30 a.m. service of worship at First Presbyterian Church. The pastor, Rev. Kenneth R. Boyd, will conduct the service, and bring the message. Under direction of Tom Love the chancel choir will give musical leadership to the service. Church School is also at 9:30 a.m. for children from nursery age through sixth grade. Child care is provided for smallest children during the morning.

Classes for junior and senior high young people and adults are offered following worship, concluding at 11 a.m. A new series of adult study opportunities will begin this week. They will continue through June 4.

Methodists activities

The celebration of worship is at 10 a.m. this Sunday in First United Methodist Church, 925 North F St. Church School classes are at that time also. The Jr. Hi United Methodist Youth Fellowship meets at 4:30 p.m. The Sr. Hi group will meet at the church at 6:30, prior to departing for a skating party in Santa Maria with members of the Presbyterian youth group. A service of prayer and witnessing is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

United Methodist Men will hold their monthly dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday, May 1. On Tuesday evening members are reminded of the "Brother Andrew" program at the Santa Maria High School Auditorium, 7:45 p.m. The speaker works in an evangelism program of distributing Bibles in Communist-controlled countries of Europe and Asia.

Church issues welcome

The Church of Christ, 138 North O St., welcomes visitors this Sunday. Bible classes for all ages begin at 9 a.m., worship service at 10. "Born Again" will be the subject of Virgil Leach. The text is from John 3:5 - "Jesus answered 'Truly, truly I say unto you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God.'"

"Sin Unto Death" is title of the sermon at 6 p.m., with text from 1 John 5:16. The Lord's Supper will be served at both morning and evening services.

In addition, youth and fellowship meetings will be held Monday night, prayer meeting at 10 a.m. Tuesday, and Bible study at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

"Do not judge" says Rev. Richard Harris

"Do Not Judge by Outward Appearance" is the sermon title for the 10 a.m. service this Sunday at United Church. The children's story by the Rev. Richard E. Harris, is the Pledge of Allegiance to the Christian flag, "I pledge allegiance to the Christian flag and to the Savior for whose Kingdom it stands - one Brotherhood uniting all mankind in service and in love."

American and Christian flags are recent gifts to the church by Mrs. Robert (Lorraine) Holmes in memory of her son who died in Germany while serving his country in the armed forces. The senior choir anthem will be Sam Wesley's "Lead Me, Lord, in They Righteousness." Meetings Sunday include the Sr. Hi United Church Youth after church, and an information meeting at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Nygren is speaker for the AMIGOS medical program, followed by a parents' meeting at 9:00 p.m.

For Saturday's work day, members and friends of the church are asked to call George Yoshitake, 3-1447, to volunteer help in painting, weeding, caring for trees and grass.

Calendar told at St. Mary's

The First Service of Holy Communion will be celebrated at the 8 and 10 a.m. services at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 209 East Central Ave., this Sunday morning. The Rev. Reed K. Merino will preach the sermon.

The Sr. Episcopal Young Churchmen will meet from 7-9 p.m. Sunday. Weekday services of Holy Communion will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. and Thursday at 9 a.m. Regularly scheduled groups will follow the services.

The commitment class for adults will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Here is a hand that decided an important team match in the early 30s. Both teams reached seven hearts on identical bidding and both Wests opened the diamond queen.

One South cashed one trump and the king and ace of spades; ruffed a spade with dummy's last trump and tried to discard his last spade on dummy's second high diamond. East ruffed and the party was over.

This was a pretty good line of play, but Edward Hymes Jr., the other South and one of the great players of all time, decided that he would be able to locate the queen of spades if he just ran off a lot of trumps.

He ruffed a low diamond at trick two to get some sort of diamond count and noted that East dropped the club 10. Then he cashed six trumps, leaving dummy with king-five of spades; king-nine of diamonds and queen of clubs. He was also sure at this point that West was holding two spades, two diamonds and the club king.

He led his last trump. West discarded the king of clubs and Eddy claimed the grand slam.

East sputtered. "You've claimed. Now you can't finesse."

"I don't intend to finesse," said Eddy. "Watch and try to discard."

Then Eddy discarded the nine of diamonds from dummy and led a spade to dummy's king. The king of diamonds was led and East had to unguard the spade queen in order to keep the club ace. "See," said Eddy. "No finesses at all."

CARD Sense

The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	2 ♣	Pass	1 ♦
1 ♥	2 ♣	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ A 6 5 4 ♥ K 6 3 2 ♦ Q 10 7 ♣ 5 4

What do you do now?

A—Pass or bid two no-trump. We have a very slight preference for two no-trump, but we aren't proud of our bid.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two clubs, your partner has bid one no-trump over your one heart. What do you do now?

SATURDAY, APRIL 29 — Born today, you have a highly critical outlook on life in general, but it is counter - balanced by its constructiveness. You never find fault with a thing without at the same time offering genuinely feasible suggestions as to how the fault can be eliminated, the matter set to rights. And since you are as critical of yourself and your own efforts as you are of others and theirs, you do not antagonize those others with your outspokenness. Rather, you should find that they begin to come to you for advice as to how to perform better.

A hard worker yourself, you expect others to be the same. Nothing, in fact, disturbs you more than to find that responsibilities have not been met, that jobs have been shirked, duties avoided. Considered something of a hard taskmaster, you are nevertheless admired by those who work with or for you because of your interest in the progress of any given project and your willingness to share any glory that may come of success.

One who loves deeply and hates the same way, you should be a delightful spouse and parent — but a formidable foe. Even so, your presence in any situation or circumstance all but guarantees that arguments will be nil, for you will work extremely hard to secure peace and harmony between yourself and any with whom you are in close association — even should one or more of those associates be not to your liking.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide "Practice a juggling act with your boy friends—right! I just dropped old Dumbbell George!"

Sunday, April 30

TAURUS (April 21 - May 21) — What was merely a vision can become today a reality if you are successful in persuading others of your seriousness. Don't give up efforts to gain support.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) — Flattery may get you nowhere — but it will be of greater help to you than adverse criticism. Consider the source when you repeat a tale of woe.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23) — The commendation of a foe is worth a great deal today. Keep in close contact with one who has supported your projects in the past.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23) — A highly successful day insofar as spiritual advances are concerned. Don't be dismayed should you not produce material gain at this time.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23) — The home loving Virgo knows the most happiness this Sunday. Be prepared to make small sacrifices for the good of the family — you'll enjoy doing so.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23) — Discuss present problems with an intellectual equal — though you may have to go relatively far from home base to do so.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22) — A day when you would be wisest to get along on wit and charm. Reports of another's recent accomplishment may cause you some concern at evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22) — Concentrate on one thing at a time today or you may find that you can concentrate on nothing — to the dismay of those counting on you for solutions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20) — Rewards for recent hard work should begin to come your way this morning. Children need and should be offered special guidance. Use your influence.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) — If you would be fully appreciated for what you are today, let others in on the secrets of your success. Do yourself a favor this morning.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - March 21) — Keep to the facts. If you insist upon guessing about your future, don't be dismayed to guess wrong. Difficulties should cease by evening.

ARIES (March 22 - April 20) — Morning worship brings you into a deeper contact with your spiritual self and a better understanding of your recent actions. Rely on your ability to persevere.

SCARBOROUGH, England (UPI)—Mayor Peter Jaconelli swallowed 500 oysters in 48 minutes Thursday and claimed a world record.

The 280-pound Jaconelli said he did it for civic pride—he wanted to put his town in the record book before his term of office ends next month.

Dear Abby

Both sides of the coin
on privacy

DEAR ABBY: What's gotten into you? Everyone is entitled to privacy.

I refer to those people who were vacationing near Monterey when a car full of strangers drove up, and asked if they could share their picnic table. I think they had a lot of nerve trying to butt in that way.

I give those people credit for saying, "No, we want our privacy." You took the part of the intruders and gave out with a lot of dialog about "caring and sharing."

Look at the English. They are great protectors of their privacy. You don't see them letting just anybody move in and get chummy with them.

LIKES MY PRIVACY

DEAR LIKES: For the other side of the coin, please read on:

DEAR ABBY: After reading about the people who didn't want to share their picnic table, I couldn't help but think how much they were missing. Privacy can be found in the confines of one's own home, and if that is what one wants, he should stay home.

We are not world travelers, but we have had many memorable outings when we took our children camping. We've shared picnic tables (and even lunches) with strangers from all over.

Had we wanted our privacy, we would have never met the two charming retired schoolteachers who were crossing the country on the narrow back byways instead of the freeways. ("You don't see anything from an airplane!")

Or the party of happy young people who insisted that we share their campfire on the banks of a river one beautiful moonlit night too beautiful to describe.

Our children have romped with children of every color and creed, and it has enriched their lives.

Once we joined a family with nine children who were giving "Mamma" a vacation from the kitchen, treating her to a dinner of peanut butter and jam sandwiches and chocolate milk.

Those who shun strangers will never know the wonderful feeling of making friends of strangers, and have them blow you kisses when you wave them goodby.

Privacy seekers miss the whole point of living in, and enjoying, God's beautiful world, which belongs to all of us. I weep for them, and their growing numbers.

RECEIVED MORE THAN WE GAVE.

DEAR ABBY: 27 years ago, I married a smart, young, ambitious man. Climb! Climb! Climb! Year after year the goals got higher. He worked, worked, worked!

Last week I nearly lost this wonderful man to a heart attack. What good was the split level home, the beautiful furniture, the sterling silver, the mink, the extra car! My only prayer was that this devoted husband and father should live to enjoy the fruits of his hard-earned labor.

I have reproached myself a thousand times for having demanded so many material things. I nearly worked him to death. No wonder most women outlive their husbands.

I was lucky. Thank God mine is going to make it.

Abby, please tell young married women to settle for less and not to drive their husbands to exhaustion. Sign me,

GRATEFUL

DEAR GRATEFUL: No one can tell it like the one who's been there. Thanks for the reminder.

DEAR ABBY: Three of my friends came here for lunch and bridge the other afternoon. One is a widow, the other a divorcee and the third is married. They all had a wonderful laugh over a sign they had recently seen in the needlework department of The Farmers Market.

"NEEDLEWORK HAS TAKEN THE PLACE OF SEX"

Needless to say no one brought out her needlework, even when she was dummy.

COURTHOUSE REPORT

By Dick Prael

Candidates in the torrid Third District supervisorial race in the June 6 Primary Election are certainly not "shrinking violets" when it comes to handing out advice to county solons as part of their campaigns.

First, UCSB librarian Richard Duprey appealed to the supervisors to deny General Plan changes that would allow a giant second-home development on the Alisal Ranch. It turned out the board has discouraged that operation, at least for now, on the basis of a wave of public reaction against it in Santa Ynez Valley.

Goleta Valley businessmen Jim Worthen said the supervisors could score some points with the valley's citizenry by putting a lid on further employee hiring, putting pressure on Santa Barbara city solons to see to it valley persons had more say in city airport operations there, and by having a "more equalized" reassessment program that didn't strike hardest at tract home owners.

Attorney Michael M. Morisoli called on county officials to listen to Goleta Valleyites — particularly the unemployed — who wanted the Allstate Insurance regional center set up in Goleta Valley, and Attorney Jim Slater pleaded with the county to call a moratorium on the practice of greasing the spread of urbanism into the agricultural districts.

Attractive Lyn McClurg, Goleta Valley businesswoman-housewife, in effect, has called on the supervisors to be "better listeners" to what the people are saying today throughout the county.

Now Morisoli has come out urging replacement of R. Lockwood Tower, veteran chairman of the Local Agency Formation Commission, as the public member of the commission.

Tower exhibited the letter at the LAFCO session Thursday.

Morisoli said it seemed "only fair" at this time that the Third District be given additional representation on the five-member commission, pointing out three commission representatives hail from Santa Barbara, Montecito and Carpinteria area leaving Supervisor Daniel G. Grant representing the Third District. Tower is from Montecito.

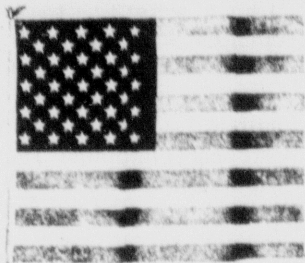

Morisoli said the Third District needs more representation because "it is the greatest area of concern" in the county's unincorporated area. He said the district has many qualified persons who could serve. He praised Tower's "dedicated" service.

Tower's term ends May 1, but he may serve until a successor is named, the county counsel's office said Thursday. There was a bare quorum of three at Thursday's meeting, so the question of Tower's continuance was put off until the next meeting.

Tower said he would be willing to serve until new supervisors are elected.

Braves take league lead as Saints' defense collapses

LOMPOC RECORD

Sports News

Scott Ostler — Sports Editor

By Steve LaRue

The Braves made the highground in Santa Maria last night, returning from two season-opening losses to comander first place in the Northern League in a 4-2 campaign against the Saints.

The win puts a full game between Lompoc and third place Santa Maria and half a game between the Braves and second place Cabrillo.

The Saints solidly outit Lompoc 8-5 with three extra base connections. But the winning advantage was base running and defense. Saint's infielders turned in a whopping seven errors to hand Lompoc two of their four runs, while the Brave infield generally sparkled.

Lefty Tribe starter John Rodriguez ran into serious grief in the first when Saint leftfielder Maurice Kon laced a changeup into right for a two bagger, sending leadoff man John McGill, aboard on a Rod Townes fielding error, to third.

But after one - manning Steve Brock's sharp grounder, firstbaseman Mike Bratz crossed the diamond and caught Kon in a rundown for out number two. and Townes delivered Rodriguez from the inning with a standout scoop and peg from behind second on Nelson Sagisi's bound grounder.

Santa Maria broke through with a run each in the second and third frames, but stranded two in each. After Pat Kelly and second baseman Steve Hollywood cracked authoritative singles into left in the second, Saint starter Bryn Smith sacrificed Kelly home on a fly to center to give the Saints a 1-0 edge.

Matt Knickrehm set the stage for the Tribe's second inning reply run with a rambling slide into third that jostled the ball out of Mike Draper's clutches, allowing the rightfielder to cross on Mike Bratz' sacrifice fly to center.

The Saints threatened heavily again in the third, a three pitcher inning for Lompoc, but downtown defense and the third important game factor, Bob Aguilar, kept the damage down to one run.

Kon doubled again off Rodriguez, this time of the right field wall, to open the inning and retire the sophomore. But Kon was again caught off the bag, this time by shortstop Jeff Bratz, when centerfielder Dave Stegman scooped up Brock's single on the run and rifled it behind him at second.

Reliever Ted Grafton wasn't crossing the plate with his curve and catcher Nelson Sagisi caromed a fastball off the wall for a 390 foot double that brought over Brock for a Saints' 2-1 advantage.

Grafton left the hill after walking Kelly, handing the ball to Bob Aguilar who, in his 4 1/2 innings of relief, gave up two of the Saints' eight hits, fanning three and chloroforming the Santa Maria offense.

Howell helped Aguilar out of the third with a diving stop and belly tag that caught Kelly returning to third. Jeff Bratz speared a pair of liners at short to enliven the following otherwise eventless Saint innings.

Lompoc stayed down 2-1 until the fifth when Stegman, aboard on a walk and at second by larceny, took out for third on Rod Townes' grounder to short and made the turn when shortstop Brock sailed it over first baseman Salazar's head.

Brock opened the Lompoc sixth with a miscue on a Don Landry bounder and Kelly Candaele followed with a bloop bunt single that Sagisi could have caught in the air.

Jeff Bratz' broken bat single up the middle then scored Landry to pull Lompoc ahead 3-2.

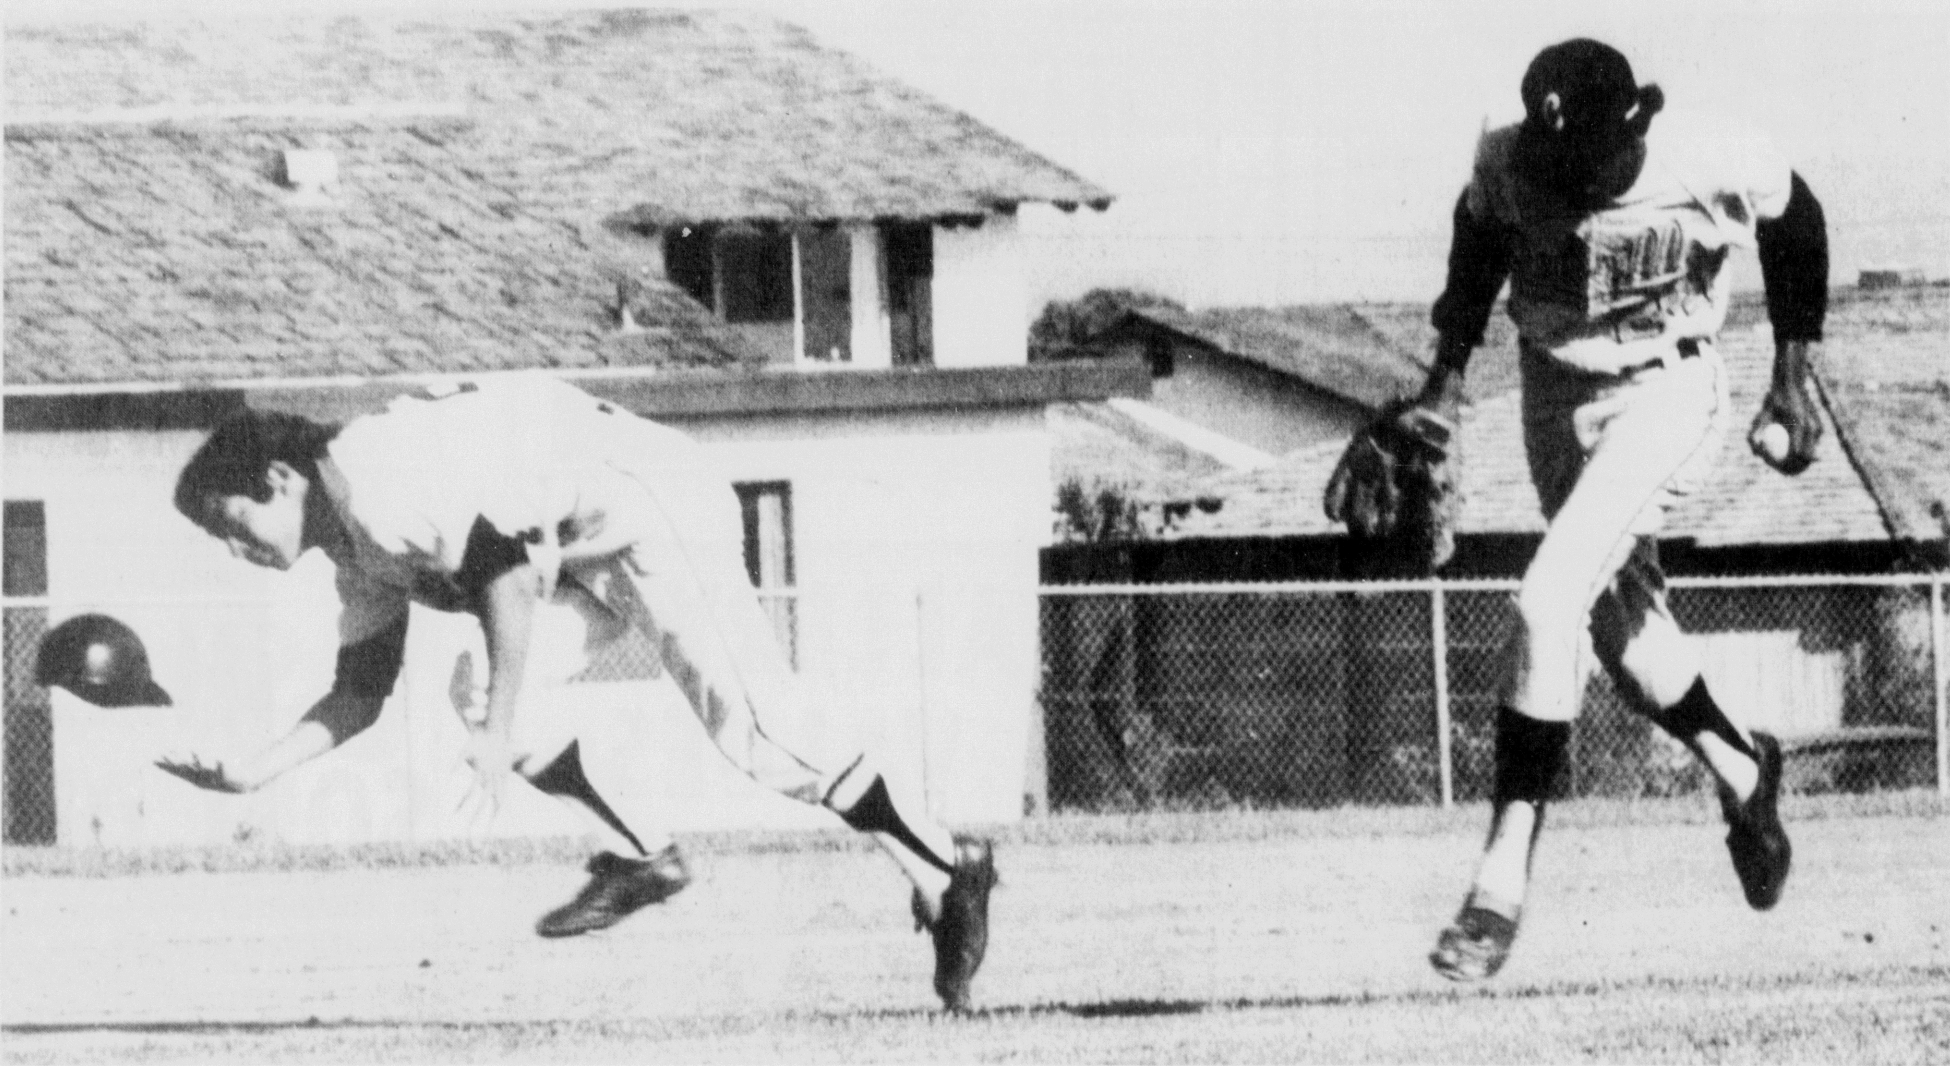

Light handing Brock's relay on Mike Bratz' following bounder to short, Hollywood granted Jeff Bratz the base and the Braves their fourth run in the blurred figure of Kelly Candaele who charged in from third.

A half capacity, cigar smoke exhalting crowd of Lompoc partisans welcomed the Brave breakaway on their feet, Aguilar returned sharp in the bottom of the sixth and seventh to notch his fourth, a big one.

Brave Frosh downed the lower Saints 4-2 across town on a seven inning performance by Ron Melson who fanned 13. The entire Tribe Frosh lineup turned in at least one hit on the day, Danny Townsend pumping in a double, Braves Frosh are now 7-3.

Lompoc returns to Elk's field next Tuesday to do battle with the fourth place warriors who, with an improving lineup, downed Santa Maria last Tuesday to open the way for the Braves. Game time is at 3:15 p.m.

Hall throws 1-hitter at San Luis

Conqs hungry, devour Tigers 6-0

By SCOTT OSTLER

Looking suspiciously like a team that wants a piece of the Northern League pennant action, the Cabrillo Conqs kicked the downtrodden San Luis Tigers all over the hill yesterday, winning 6-0.

The plot thickens. Cabrillo is a half game behind first place Lompoc, with Santa Maria a half game back of the Conqs.

The Braves and Saints each have four games remaining, the Conqs have five. And one of them is a rain-out makeup with (chuckle, chortle) the San Luis Tigers.

Going into league play this year, the undefeated (7-0) Tigers looked a team to beat, and so far everyone has.

The Conqs did it convincingly, led by Dennis Hall's one-hit pitching, eight base hits of their own, and an exhibition of incompetent baseball by the lead-gloved Tigers.

Hall, who is built like a fungo bat and pitches with his rib cage (pulled muscle) held together by ace bandages, allowed only a solid single to Paul Miller in the second inning and struck out eight in his encouraging performance.

"I'm surprised that Hall could go seven innings," said pitching coach Bill Weber. "He hasn't really thrown since the Arroyo Grande game two weeks ago."

Dennie did run into some trouble, walking seven and hitting a batter. But he managed to shut the door each time, even in the second inning when San Luis got four runners on base on two walks, a hit batsman and a single, and yet couldn't score.

Two fine Conq fielding plays saved Hall's shutout that inning. Shortstop Matt Goodrich went a long way to flag down a low pop fly, and center fielder Kevin Drake retrieved an errant Hall pickoff attempt and nailed the San Luis baserunner Larry Tucker at third with a perfect strike to Goodrich.

Roy Thomas gets a win

Roy Thomas, who pitched his way into the Lompoc High record books and was drafted in the first round by the Philadelphia Phillies last year, has won his first professional game.

Thomas, pitching for the calss 'A' Spartanburg Phillies of the West Carolina League, hurled a nine-inning five-hitter against the Charlotte Twins yesterday. The Phils won 5-0 as Thomas fanned 14 Twins.

Last week Roy started a game and went seven innings but got no decision, leaving the game trailing 3-2.

He struck out 10 men in that stint, and the Phils went on to win the game. After last year's high school season, Roy played briefly for the Phils' Walla Walla, Washington in farm team in rookie league. He was plagued with arm trouble, which has reportedly been cured.

The Conqs are not the picture of health. Besides Hall's ribs, the below par list included catcher J. C. Holt's ailing kidneys, Goodrich's sore arm, and regular shortstop Ken Murphy's vacation plans, which kept him away from yesterday's game.

Steve Long, who lost his starting job to Bucky Brockett, was back in the lineup due to Murphy's absence, and Steve may have won back his spot. He blasted three hits in three trips, including a wind-aided triple.

The Hillme broke fast out of the starting gate with three runs. Leadoff man Drake alertly took advantage of pitcher Cary Smith's throwing error to race to third to open Cabrillo's half of the first. Another error, on a Goodrich grounder, and a walk to Basil Brown loaded the bases.

Mike Kluge hit a potential double-play ball to shortstop Vince Pillow, who muffed it as Drake came home.

With bases still loaded, Howard Comstock layed down a nice suicide squeeze bunt to score Goodrich, and Holt followed with a ground-out to bring Brown home.

Comstock instant-replayed his squeeze in the third inning to cash in Brown, who was on third with a wind-assisted triple to right field.

Yes, the Tigers did have trouble with the wind, as did the fans, scorekeepers and stray dogs.

In the fourth, Long scored from third on Brockett's bloop single to left, and then played fullback. Goodrich missed a squeeze attempt and little Bucky crashed into Tiger catcher John Farmer (see picture), bringing the latter hopping to his feet ready to fight, although Brockett was out. Only angry words were thrown.

Cabrillo picked up its final run in the fifth as Kluge led off with a line single to left, and later scored from second on Long's slashing single to right. Long, incidentally, rounded first and was picked off with a throw from outfielder Tom Leonard.

Drake, whose 11-game hitting streak ended against Lompoc, started another with a single in four trips.

The Tigers not only committed four errors, but blew at least two simple run-down plays and misplayed several Cabrillo hits.

It's been a long season for the Tigers.

The Hill JV's checked in with a 9-7 win. Gary Hargis got the big hit, a bases-loaded triple. Jeff Holt and Greg Long each went 2-for-2 and Dennis Henning picked up the win, his fifth. The Conqs JVs are now 5-5 in league play, San Luis is 4-5-1.

Big crowd watches as Dodgers fizzle

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Tommie Agee hit a grand slam home run in the eighth inning Friday night to carry the New York Mets to a 6-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers for their seventh straight win before a crowd of 51,210, largest in the majors this season.

The Mets went into the eighth inning with a tie-1-1 when Jerry Grote singled and winning pitcher Jon Matlack sacrificed and was safe at first on a fielder's choice to second.

Bud Harrelson followed with a single to load the bases and Ken Boswell singled to right, scoring Grote.

Jim Brewer then replaced Dodger starter and loser Bill Singer. With the count 0-2, Agee smashed the next pitch into the left field pavilion at the 370-foot mark. It was his second homer of the season and the second grand slam of his career.

Matlack, who had won in relief earlier in the season, scored his first win as a starter to make his record 2-0. The loss was the first for Singer after two wins.

The game went into the tie in the second inning when both clubs scored in identical fashion. With one out the Mets got consecutive singles from Cleon Jones, Jim Fregosi and Kranepool for their run.

The Dodgers scored in the bottom of the inning on singles by Steve Garvey, Dick Dietz and Bill Russell.

Singer and Matlack then settled into a tight pitching duel that lasted into the seventh inning.

Blue, Finley almost agree, Vida balks

CHICAGO (UPI) — Oakland Athletics owner Charles O. Finley said talks with holdout pitcher Vida Blue broke up without settlement Friday when Blue balked at making public two contract concessions.

After 22 hours of negotiations, Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who was trying to mediate the contract dispute, flew back to New York and Blue left for California, Finley said.

"I am very disappointed and disillusioned to say the least," Finley said. "We had reached an agreement granting Vida's two request."

Finley said the A's had agreed to give their star hurler a $5,000 bonus for the 1971 season and agreed to give him $8,000 college scholarship on the spot.

"When Vida signed his first contract with the A's, it included a college scholarship program with $8,000 based on eight semesters with $1,000 per semester. This program was to begin within a year and half after signing, otherwise it was null and void. They wanted us to prepay them $8,000 today. We agreed," Finley said.

The trouble came, Finley said, when the attorneys met and attempted to work out a joint statement to the press.

"That statement included the two concessions and his agreed salary of $50,00," Finley said.

"But when the statement was drafted, Mr. Robert Gerst, Blue's agent advised us that Vida was not agreeable to the statement. He said he preferred no statement at all."

"So there is no agreement," Finley said. "Vida left for California, Kuhn went to New York, and I'm back in my office in Chicago."

The Athletics owner said he had "no idea" why Blue balked at signing the statement.

"If I did know why he refused, I'd be in business," he said. "Everyone agreed beforehand, I just don't know why he wouldn't sign."

Finley said he "certainly" hoped talks would resume. But he would not speculate when.

Blue, whose sensational season attracted some of the biggest crowds in the league last year, originally asked for $110,000 for 1972. He came down to $92,000. Finley had been adamant on the $50,000 figure.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Jerry West's lank, flat-nosed face was dark and grim, cock-eyed with fury. It was the sixth game of the Milwaukee-Los Angeles play-off series and now the Lakers had lost their lead and West, as the game ticked down to conclusion, had missed six, seven, eight, nine, ten straight shots.

Oh, no, not again, he seemed to be railing at his subconscious. Can't blow another chance at a championship.

The Bucks scored and as the Lakers came downcourt, Gail Goodrich dribbling, West patted the air with his palms. Calm, calm, he was gesturing. He would not allow obsession to sour into frustration to end in desperation.

Then, in the final six minutes of the game, West scored 12 points to lead the Lakers to victory and into their ninth NBA championship series in 12 seasons. They have yet to win one.

It is an agonizing fact for West. He has never been on a "winner." In sporting terms, if your team does not capture a championship you are a loser. There is no middle ground.

Four times in the last 11 years, the Lakers have gone to the seventh and final game of the championship series. And they've lost by three points, two points, two points and 14 points.

Nineteen sixty-nine may have been the most devastating.

tating. The Celtics beat Los Angeles 108-106. West scored 42 points in that final game.

"I guess it just wasn't meant for me to be a member of a championship team," he wrote in his autobiography, "Mr. Clutch."

"Maybe there'll be another year, another chance. . . I sat in that awful, still dressing room listening to the noise of the Boston players celebrating as it came through the walls and it was like I'd been hit by this all my life and now I'd been hit one too many.

"(Bill) Russell had 11 titles, I had none. . . I've been disappointed before, but this was the worst. . . I admire Russell and Havlicek and Jones and all the great Celtics, who always have it when it counts, and I envy them. I didn't cry, but I wanted to."

West thought at the time that he would never have another chance at a title. He was getting tired. A nine-year veteran then, he was feeling that profound ache in his bones and psyche. His nose had been broken nine times. His hips and arms and fingers and muscles had been sprained, torn, twisted. His ego bruised.

Yet now he has another chance. Will this in fact be the last, he wonders. For now, at age 34, every season, as the season winds down, may be the end for him as an active player. "You always think about quitting at this time of year," he says. "You're so tired."

Now he also says he is stale from the long, long season. It showed in the play-off series against Milwaukee. He shot only 34.8 per cent, and averaged 21.8 points per game. Far from his record as the highest scorer in NBA play-off history: 48.3 per cent shooting and a 30.9-point per game average.

"It's so bad now," he said, after the final Milwaukee game, "that I can't even hit in practice. I'm a mile clear and the basket looks a mile wide and I still can't put it in. I'm still scoring, but it's from the saturation method. Throw up enough shots, you're bound to get some in."

His game, though, is not all shooting. He is finally being recognized for the all-around player he's always been. He led the league in assists this season, with nearly 10 a game. And for the fourth straight year he was named to the NBA's all-defensive team.

But he entered the finals against the New York Knicks carrying a double burden. One, that his graceful, quick, soft shot is on vacation. Another is the Lakers' history of title flops.

It is a time, he knows, to calm the air with level palms and, of course, to bust his gut.

Conq netters cruise; Saints finish Tribe

Lompoc

Cabrillo

Lompoc netmen fell to the Saints on the hot clay courts of Santa Maria yesterday afternoon, leaving contention for the Northern League title in a 4-3 crusade in which five games made the winning edge, Lompoc with 81, the Saints at 86.

The Braves watched as an early 3-1 lead melted into their last important loss, Jim Anderson took out Saint David Bryant 8-6, 6-4 at third singles and Bill Brooks followed with a 6-1, 6-3 straight setting of fourth singles Saint Hirofumi Natakuchi.

Braves Dale Rupp and David Hodges also finished early with a 6-1, 7-5 decision over Santa Maria first doublesmen Rusty Bryant and Scott McDonald, normally the Saint second doubles team.

Flat and hard slugging Bill DeVoe had downed Tribe leadman Eddie Parker 2-6, 1-6 for the Braves only early reverse to set the early returns at 3-1 Lompoc.

But then the split set contests started to fade. At second singles Tim Blotzke battled the english playing John Treankler but went down 4-6 in the third set after a 2-6, 7-5 split.

Treankler, who began the season as number two man for the Saints, was shifted to first singles the week before last against Cabrillo, swapping with DeVoe. This week, in a move illegal if it isn't the result of a challenge playoff, Treankler is back at second.

Strategic lineup shifting is illegal, though Saints doubles and singles have been advantageously and liberally shifted.

Resurging from an over-confidence that cost them the Lompoc dual and beginning to smell those league patches, Cabrillo raquetmen romped to a 6-1 lumbering of the Tigers on the Hill yesterday afternoon.

The win, the Conq's eighth against two reverses keeps them within range of league-leading Santa Maria at 9-2 who downed the Hillmen 4-3 in March to fall 4-3 to a Cabrillo comeback last Friday. The Third round showdown will be in Santa Maria on May 9th.

Relying on his powerful serve and with improved network, Jim Moreton had little trouble with San Luis first singles entry Doug Chase in a 6-4, 6-4 match, followed by gold second singlesman Mike Weinstein's 6-0, 6-1 inundation of Greg Sorenson. Weinstein's win breaks a personal three match losing streak. Outgated by Sorenson's height, Weinstein orchestrated the win with precision placements and a return to his flat hard serve.

At third and fourth singles, John Beaudry and Butch Haley allowed but three games between them as Beaudry beat John Smogyi 6-1, 6-0 and Haley rode over Ralph Stintin 6-2, 6-0.

In a slow midcourt dual that eventually went the way of consistent serving and finer placements, fifth singlesman and recent U.S. Air Force Academy appointee Mike Clemenovitz turned in Tiger David Carey 7-5, 7-5.

Second doublesmen Bill Hobart and Bob Russ stunted on Alex Helge and Joe Johnson in their 6-0, 6-0 shutout.

Torre's bat ends Houston streak

Joe Torre went four-for-five, drove in three runs and scored two more to pace the St. Louis Cardinals to a 7-2 triumph over the Houston Astros Friday night, ending the Astros' nine-game winning streak.

Torre sliced a two-run triple to key a five-run Cardinals outburst in the sixth inning and slammed a run-scoring double as St. Louis added two more runs in the ninth.

Ted Sizemore and Matty Alou started the big sixth inning with singles and scored on Torre's half-swing triple down the right field line to tie the score at 2-2.

In the ninth, Torre doubled down the left field line to drive in Luis Melendez. Torre came around on a wild pitch and another sacrifice fly by Joe Hague for the game's final run.

Hank Aaron singled twice, scored twice, and drove in two runs to spark an eight-run sixth inning outburst that carried the Atlanta Braves to a 13-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Trailing 3-1 going into the sixth, the Braves scored a run on a single by Aaron, a walk to Rico Carty and Darrell Evans' single, and then broke the game open by scoring seven more runs after two more out.

Pinch-hitter Jim Breazeale put Atlanta ahead 4-3 with a bases-loaded single, Felix Millan and Ralph Garr followed with run-scoring hits and then a two-run single by Aaron made it 8-3. After another wlk to Carty, Earl Williams singled to score Aaron.

Aaron, who started the season with only one hit in his first 22 at bat, has nine hits in his last 20 at bats.

Jim Hickman belted two three-run homers to pull the Chicago Cubs out of an eight-game losing streak and help Ferguson Jenkins to his first pitching win of the year, 10-8, over the Cincinnati Reds.

Hickman, subbing at first base for Joe Pepitone, who called in sick with a stomach ache, boosted Chicago's lead to 6-1 in the third with his second homer of the game and for the season.

The victory marked the return of Chicago Manager Leo Durocher, who had been hospitalized for treatment of a strep throat infection during the losing streak.

Orioles crush Angels

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Baltimore Orioles, aided by Nolan Ryan's wildness and paced by a 16-hit attack, snapped a four-game losing streak Friday night by whipping the California Angels, 12-2, to give Jim Palmer his first victory of the year.

The Orioles, who scored once in the second inning on a sacrifice fly by Mark Belanger, broke loose for four runs in the third inning after Ryan walked the bases loaded and they wrapped up the contest against reliever Mel Queen in the fifth with a seven-run barrage.

Ryan issued successive walks to Don Buford, Merv Rettenmund and Boog Powell to load the bases in the third, and reliever Tom Murphy forced the first run home by walking Brooks Robinson. Powell and

Trevino ties for lead

DALLAS (UPI) —Lee Trevino finished in the shadows with a four-under-par 33-33-66 Friday to pull into a three-way tie for the first round lead of the $125,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic with reformed links comedian Juan Rodriguez and portly Bob Murphy.

This trio formed the bellwethers of a par-shattering brigade which took full advantage of the rain-enforced day's postponement to tear Preston Trail Golf Club's 7,086-yard, par 35-35 —70 layout apart with more than two dozen subpar rounds.

Trevino fired birdie putts of 12, 10, 12 and 35 feet and one 10-inch tapin to offset his lone bogey and gain a share of the lead with Rodriguez, who had a 32-34-66 and Murphy, who had a 34-32-66.

Wilf Homenuik, the dark-headed Canadian who has won but about $3,000 on the tour this spring, made a brave run at the undisputed lead but a bogey-bogey finish fashioned on three-put greens dropped him from five under par to a three-under 34-33-67 and into a multiple tie for fourth place.

Also just a stroke off the pace were rookie Jim Barber, Bruce Devlin, Bruce Crampton and Larry Ziegler.

Billy Casper headed up a half dozen players at 68, while defending champion Jack Nicklaus strayed from roughs to bunkers and had to settle for a 35-34-69 that left him a big longjam with nearly a dozen others.

Rodriguez, who said "for the first time in over a year I can feel the putter in my hand," also had five birdies and a bogey. His birdie putts fell from 4, 5, 12, 3 and 5 feet.

Homenuik, who had rolled in birdies of six inches, 25, 15, 20, 4 and 10 feet in going five under par after 14 holes, ran into trouble on the elevated greens of the eighth and ninth holes—his finishing holes.

"I just forgot a 15-foot curling putt on No. 8 and then missed a six-inch tap-in," he said of the first messup. He went four-feet past the cup from 15 feet and then missed that one on the final hole.

Golf: Hillmen win

The Lompoc linksmen proved no match for the powerful Cabrillo golfers yesterday at the Village Country Club.

The Braves stayed even with the top two Conqs, but the other three varsity matches gave Cabrillo a 30-6 win in the match that ended the first round of Northern League golf play.

Conq Rick Burris and Brave Gerald Anderson fought it out for medalist honors and ended in a dead heat with 82 strokes apiece.

Likewise for the Terry McClure - Dave Schroder matchup. Each golfer carded an 85, to leave the decision up to the last three twosomes.

Jack Dillard picked up six points for Cabrillo with a 85 round, to 95 for his opponent Gary Stutch, Conq Tim Lockwood checked in with an 86, which was 35 strokes better than his opponent Richard Reece.

Jim Gray put the capper on for Cabrillo, with a round of 85, to 111 for Ken Simonson.

Cabrillo's average was 84.6 strokes, to 98.8 for Lompoc. The Conqs are now undefeated (5-0) in league play, and are 9-2 overall. They face a crucial match next week (Friday) with Righetti at Rancho Maria.

The Hill Jv's downed Lompoc 36-0 behind wins by Mike Knisley (94), Mark DeDera (105), Chris Cox (86), Mark Burris (95), and Ed Porrazzo (109). The JV average was 95.8.

Answers About Life Insurance . . .

Q Can the so-called "fixed dollars" of life insurance ever produce a substantial investment gain?

A Indeed they can. There are few greater gains than those which occur in a life insurance policy when there is an early death. . . and when would it be more important for benefits to be high?

HOW MUCH AND WHAT KIND of life insurance should you own? I would appreciate the opportunity to show you exactly "how much and what kind of life insurance" a man in your position, with your family responsibilities and your pocketbook, should own.
